SINO-JAPANESE RELATIONS

Concrete Proposals

Tokyo, August 24. The "Miyako Shinbun" understands that immediately after the return of Mr. Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese Ambassador to Japan, Mr. Hirota, the Japanese Foreign Minister, is expected to make concrete proposals for Sino-Japanese co-operation, under the assumption that the Chinese Government fully realizes that China cannot hope to secure prosperity without the aid of Japan.

The proposals include the revocation of the Chinese doctrine of the non-recognition of Manchukuo, while Japan will clear the country of the Bolshevizing influences and assist China against the fast-spreading virus of the Reds threatening to overwhelm Peiping and Tientsin.

MILITARY INFLUENCE

Peiping Aug. 24. According to well-informed vernacular papers, Japanese military influence is to be established through the north-west of China. It is stated, as the result of visits of observers to the north-west, that the Japanese military authorities have decided to establish special military missions in Taiyuanfu, Kweihsia and Ninghsia city. Colonel Moyama, head of the Kweihsia mission, is now in Peiping and is proceeding shortly to Kweihsia.

"UNTHINKABLE"

Italy's Action Criticised

New York, Aug. 24. The reports quoting the Italian press threats to attack Malta and the London despatches on the strengthening of Britain's Mediterranean defence are prominently featured by the New York papers, on which the "Herald Tribune" in an editorial, says that not even Signor Mussolini's egomania is likely to drive him to the act. This would have disastrous repercussions in Italy. Such an attack would mean war, and unless Signor Mussolini has gone mad, this is unthinkable.

CHINA'S HIGHWAY

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Shanghai, Aug. 17. In cool morning shade of the Kuchi Garden, in Nanking, the Shanghai-Wushu motor road was formally opened under the leadership of Mayor Wu Te-Chen and leading Chinese business men at 9 a.m. yesterday.

Construction work on this highway was begun in September 1933. It is 140 kilometers long and links six important towns and cities, including Changshu, Soochow, Taichong, Kiating, Shanghai and Wushu. The completion of this road is a happy event in the history of China's communication system.

Despite the depression, the highway administration has spent more than $2,000,000 for construction of this highway and all the money has been furnished by the Kiangsu Provincial Government, Greater Shanghai City Government and numerous rich Chinese citizens and officials. The new highway bus service, which has more than 60 vehicles, will be officially started to-morrow. To commemorate the inauguration of the service only 80 per cent of regular fares will be charged. The fare has been fixed at only three cents per li.

Wushu is a city of fine communications, both land and water. By way of water, the Grand Canal runs through the city from end to end. The motor road system has already joined Wushu with both Nanking and Hankow, through the section from Wushu to Hing

BRITAIN AND THE SUDAN

Britain's Special Position

Cairo, August 24. The Abyssinian question has brought a new limelight to bear on Britain's special position in Egypt and the Sudan. Two possibilities have so far been envisaged by local opinion: first, Egypt's position vis-a-vis England in the case of an Anglo-Italian conflict; and second, the occupation of the Lake Tsana district with or without Egyptian detachments.

The impression of any immediate action by Italy was largely dispelled after the London reports of yesterday's Cabinet meeting, but local opinion is still firm that Britain will never allow Italy to interfere with the Nile waters, and unless a pre-arrangement is made it is popularly expected that Britain will occupy Lake Tsana prior to the arrival of the Italian troops.

TROOPS AT SUEZ

Regarding the Suez Canal, local circles do not believe that its closing would be within the sphere of practical or international politics nor could it be achieved by the medium of the League, and unless it were achieved the action of an individual power, such as Britain, would be tantamount to a declaration of war. Meanwhile it is rumoured that a brigade of British troops will be posted at Suez, which has hitherto been unoccupied.

Regarding the possibility of the movement of Egyptian troops, the reported recall of Spinks Pasha, Inspector-General of the Egyptian Army, is regarded as significant. Despite the persistent rumours of an increase in the size of the British garrison, seemingly there has so far been no movement of troops.

DESERT EXPERIENCE

Meanwhile the special training and special reconnoissances made by the mechanized regiments in the Nile valley and the recent visits made by Sir Miles Lampson, High Commissioner in Egypt, to strategic points, are remembered in the light of the present happenings. For instance it is pointed out that the desert experience of British troops over the last five years would stand them in good stead in crossing the Abyssinian frontier and proceeding to Lake Tsana.

DANGEROUS NEIGHBOUR

Influential Egyptians are looking unfavourably at the Italian expansion in Africa, considering Italy a dangerous neighbour, and regarding the Anglo-Egyptian alliance in no spirit of bargaining. It is reported significantly that the measures for the safety and eventual evacuation of British subjects in Abyssinia will be extended to include Egyptian subjects.

on the Nanking-Hangchow Highway, in addition to the new road just ready to Shanghai and Soochow.

THE NAVAL TALKS

Japan's Reply

Tokyo, Aug. 24. The Japanese Government has cabled to the London Embassy in reply to the British proposal for a naval conference in London in October.

The reply takes the form of observations on the British Note to the signatory Powers of the Washington and London Treaties, and press reports say the observations re-state the position which Japan has already taken up namely, a willingness to participate in a new conference, but insistence on its own principles of naval disarmament, parity for Japan, a common upper limit for tonnage, and the abolition of the system of naval ratios.

"Reuter" recently reported that Britain had sent a note to Japan sounding that nation upon the possibility of calling a conference in October. It has been intimated in some quarters that Japan sees no object in calling such a conference when it is very apparent that no agreement can be obtained with respect to ratios or relative tonnage values. The United States, it is stated, will insist upon parity with Britain at the very least, and considerable superiority to Japan.

STRICT SECRECY

Berlin, Aug. 24.
The proceedings of the Italo-Abyssinian Arbitration Committee, which began yesterday, are taking place at the Hotel Bellevue.
Strict secrecy about the happenings is being maintained.

The first witness examined was
His Excellency Signor Rava, ex-Governor-General of Italian Somaliland, who was accompanied by his Adjutant, Signor de Vitoris.

Two natives of East Africa have arrived here to give evidence.
They were on service with the Italian forces during the fighting at Walwal.—
Kuo Min.

THREE KILLED

Venice, Aug. 24.
In the course of drainage operations to clear the swamps of the Venice mainland a pile driver struck a grenade obviously left from the World War. The explosion killed three workers and wounded another so badly that his recovery is not expected.

Four others received lesser injuries.—
Kuo Min.

UNIFORMS FOR CALL

Moscow, Aug. 24.
By January 1, 1936, all office staffs, and workers employed in the civil aviation service, the railways, canals, defence, gaois and reformatories, field defence,
fire brigades, transport services,
the public administration and similar organisations, must wear the regulation uniforms and badges of their respective authorities. A decree prescribing this was issued on Aug. 24.

Hitherto all State employees have been supposed to wear uniform clothing but for the most part the regulation was ignored.
After the beginning of the new year, however, the rules are to be enforced.—
Kuo Min.

MUTINY IN A STEAMER

Bilboa, Aug. 24.
Mutiny broke out to-day on the French steamer Touist and assumed such a threatening form that the captain was obliged to ask the Spanish authorities for assistance.
A detachment of Spanish customs guards, after firing a volley in the air as a warning to the mutineers, succeeded in overcoming the resistance.

A number of the crew were arrested.—
Kuo Min.

RACING DRIVER HURT

Berne, Aug. 24.
The German racing motorist Hans Geyer was hurled out of his Mercedes Benz car during a practice run yesterday for the Swiss Grand Prix race, which takes place to-day, and was seriously injured in the head and legs.

Apparently the car grazed the sandbags while rounding a curve, and was thrown against a tree and totally wrecked.—
Kuo Min.

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED

Washington, Aug. 24.
The Senate has confirmed the appointment of Mr. Winant, former Republican Governor of New Hampshire, as chairman of the new Security Board to administer President Roosevelt's unemployment insurance plan.—
Reuter.

BI-WEEKLY SERVICE

Melbourne, Aug. 24.
A bi-weekly Australia to England air mail service is likely soon, following the duplication of the Singapore to England service.
Mr. R. A. Parkhill, the Commissioner of the Postmaster-General, is expected to approve next week the duplication of the Singapore-Brisbane link.—
Reuter.

UTILITIES BILL

Washington, Aug. 24.
The Congressional members of conference on the Utilities Bill have reached complete agreement.
It is predicted that swift approval of the Bill will be reached in both houses to-morrow.—
Reuter.

THE SANCTIONS

Paris, Aug. 24.
The British Government is continuing the examination of the sanctions question, states the "Petit Parisien" in a message from London, but in common with most newspapers it refrains from making any comment on the situation created by Thursday's Cabinet meeting.

The "Echo de Paris," however, asks what France will do if she has to choose between England and Italy, going on to give it own answer to the question by saying that France's interests are exclusively in Europe. The paper then mentions the alleged German danger and draws its own conclusion, that in the face of this danger solidarity really exists between France, England and Italy.

The usually well-informed London correspondent of the "Echo de Paris" emphasises that it would be a mistake to regard the reserved attitude of the British Government as an indication of weakness, though the Government would not proceed alone in the sanctions question, since no unanimity in this respect prevails in the Cabinet.

On one point, however, all are in accord, namely, that Lake Tsang and the source of the Nile must not come under the control of a foreign Power, and that certain vital strategic points such as Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus, Suez, Aden and Khartoum must be strengthened.

The Government expects that Abyssinia will commence military operations on the Japanese model, without declaring war, under the pretext that an expedition is necessary for restoring peace and order.—
Transocean Kuo Min.

THE STAVISKY TRIAL

Paris, Aug. 24.
The date for the Stavisky trial
has now been fixed for November 4, when 19 persons will have to appear before the Seine Department Court.

Among the accused are the Disputes MM. Garratt and Bonnaure; the former manager of the paper
"Volonte," M. Dubarry, ex-General Bardi de Fourtome, Madame Stavisky, the publisher of the weekly periodical "Aux Toulous," M. Levy,
the manager of the "Liberte," M.
Aynard, and the former lawyers
MM. Gullband-Pilbaud and Gaulier.

No less than 60 advocates have been briefed with the defence of the 19 accused.

The newspaper "Jour" expresses the opinion that the trial will be marked by numerous incidents directed against the "deplorable preliminary examination," asserting that only supernumeraries have been brought to trial, while the chief actors are being shielded.

CHEKIANG-KIANGSI RAILWAY

Shanghai, Aug. 24.
A message from Nanking states that the plans are being completed here for the issue of $30,000,000 worth of bonds for the reconstruction of the new Chekiang-Kiangsi Railway. A syndicate, including the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications, has been assigned to advance a loan of $18,000, 000.

A preliminary survey of the work has begun and is expected to be completed by the end of the year, after which construction will be started.—
Reuter.

AN URGENT CALL

Peiping, Aug. 24.
Mr. Wang Keh Min left by train this evening for Nanking on a telegraphic summons from Mr.
Wang Ching Wei. He expects to be absent for a fortnight, for which reason the proposed plenary session of the Peiping Political Council on Thursday next has been postponed.

On a reliable report that General Ho Ying Chin was arriving by air this afternoon a large gathering of Chinese, including a number of prescient, visibly waited for hours at the Nanyun aerodrome.

WAR DISCUSSED

Rome, Aug. 24.
War between Italy and England is earnestly discussed in a remarkable article published by the "Ottobre," comparing the strategic positions of the two countries in the Mediterranean and containing hardly concealed threats of Italian military action against any country attempting to apply sanctions.

The forcible prevention of the passage of Italian ships through the Suez Canal by England would be the first step to war, writes the newspaper, and it proceeds to make a detailed comparison between the Italian and British air forces, stressing that naval strength would be of subsidiary importance to air strength in case of conflict.

Italy's naval strength in the western and central sections of the Mediterranean is emphasised, however, the journal asserting that Italy could easily block the passage between Sicily and the North of Africa while keeping open the Straits of Messina for her own use.

The "Ottobre" declares that Gibraltar and Malta could be easily destroyed by air attack, and that Italy's geographical position gives her a great advantage as far as aerial warfare is concerned.

Hinting at the eventuality of war
the "Ottobre" concludes: "It is possible that the truth that the Italian forces are strong enough to break through must first be proved in actual fact. It may be our task in the near future to supply this evidence."—
Transocean Kuo Min.

NEUTRALITY PROTECTED

Washington, Aug. 23.
The House of Representatives to-day passed the mandatory Neutrality Bill.

The Bill is virtually identical with that passed by the Senate, which is expected to accept the Representatives' amendments.

While the mandatory or non-discretionary embargo upon arms and munitions shipments to belligerents expires February 29, 1936, the establishment of a licensing system for the manufacture and export of arms and munitions under the supervision of a Board of Cabinet officers is to be permanent.

The Bill also makes it impossible for belligerents' warships to use American ports and denies the protection of the United States Government to American citizens travelling on belligerents' merchant vessels.—
Reuter.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION MEETING

London, Aug. 23.
Arrangements are now complete for the meeting of the British Association at Norwich from September 4 to 11, for which a large number of visitors, including many from overseas, are expected.
The Association met last in Norwich in 1888.

The Professor of Geology at the Imperial College London, Mr. W.
W. Watts, will deliver the Presidential address on "Form, Drift and Rhythm of Continents."

In celebration of the centenary of the landing of Charles Darwin as Galapagos Island, zoologists will discuss species of the light of modern knowledge. The Economic Science Section has a programme of topical interest, including papers on economic nationalism and foreign trade, financial and economic results of State control of agriculture, and will attempt to set out a chronology of the world crisis. This section also will interest itself in nutritional problems in relation to standards of life.

Other items bearing of current problems will be the study of causes of skidding on roads and an exhibition of scientific aids to management in industry.—
British Wireless.

TREASURY BILLS

London, Aug. 23.
The total amount applied for in tenders for £40,000,000 Treasury bills was £60,525,000. The average rate per cent. for bills at three months was 11.493d against 11.154d a week ago.

CHINA'S FOREIGN TRADE

How It Can Be Advanced

For centuries, China's teas, silks, nankeens, camphor, and many of the products of its handicraft artisans were without competition in the markets of the outside world. Gradually, however, the secrets of the unique products of old Cathay were acquired by other peoples, so that by the end of the nineteenth century, we find China no longer supreme as a source supply for a number of commodities which for countless ages were not to be found elsewhere. For instance, British Dutch and Japanese traders have robbed China of its supremacy in the production of tea. The Japanese have within quite recent decades deprived China of the greater portion of its export trade in silk. Hence, these two products which constituted the vast bulk of China's exports for many decades, have, since the beginning of the twentieth century been relegated to comparatively unimportant places in its foreign commerce.

OUTSIDE COMPETITION

It is not because other nations have learned to produce better quality teas and silks than accounts for the loss of China's supremacy in the world trade in these commodities. China depended upon foreigners for the marketing of its products abroad and so soon as other countries were able to produce these articles, they were naturally more interested in building up their own trade. Modern economic societies tended more and more toward the mass idea in production and consumption. The Chinese were slow to interest themselves in the changing demands of Occidental societies, whereas the British, Japanese and certain other trading peoples, journeyed to the consuming markets carefully studied conditions to be met and strove to fit their methods and products to the demands of the modern organized commercial and industrial nations. In the meanwhile, China had fallen so far behind in the world of trade in tea and silk that despite the fact that it probably can produce better qualities at lower costs, it will experience much difficulty in regaining a position of relative importance in the world commerce in these commodities.

Several decades ago the American paint and varnish manufacturers were introduced to the use of tungoil as a superior substitute for linseed oil, especially in the manufacture of varnishes. The discovery of the possibilities of the use of tungoil in the varnish industry of the Occident cannot be credited to the enterprise of the Chinese in spite of the fact that they had been using it in their country for countless ages, but rather to that of foreign traders in China, in search of opportunities for expanding their business.

Although they did not like the prospect of investing money in a new and untried industry, especially in one which would have to compete with production costs in a country on the low economic levels which characterize China, yet there seemed to be no other method of procedure. Hence as a last resort they incorporated the American Tung Oil Corporation, purchased 1,200 acres of land in Gainesville, Florida, and set out to demonstrate their ability to produce tungoil in the United States. As stated above they preferred to be able to look to China as a continuous source of supply rather than embark upon a venture of uncertain prospects for the future.

In reality, this means that if China would help itself in the development of its foreign trade, it must, first and foremost, devote its thought and energies to the straightening of the tangles and shortcomings in its domestic trade. In a word, it must modernize its domestic trade as a prerequisite to any substantial expansion of its exports. A successful foreign commerce means little more than ocean expansion or a properly functioning domestic trade. In the instance of woodoil China need not be discouraged by the fact that America has started growing the trees in its own country, for no sooner had America embarked upon the development of the tungoil industry than it began to discover other uses for the oil. Some of these had been in vogue in China for some centuries, but lack of enterprise there had prevented making them known to the outside world. Near Gainesville, Florida, where the first efforts were made in growing the trees on a commercial basis, it was discovered that the blossoms are so luxuriant that it is profitable to stage a tung blossom festival, inviting the public to a special annual festival to view the trees during the season when they are flowering.

Through the impetus given to the more extensive use of tungoil by the interest taken in the growing of the trees in America, undoubtedly the world consumption of this product will expand very considerably, thereby assuring China of demands abroad for the oil for some time to come. On the other hand, presuming that within another decade or two China loses the bulk of its exports in tungoil, what will happen to this industry in this country? In fact, in no other way will China be able better to compete with other countries in the production and sales of tungoil than by making itself the premier nation in the scientific application of tungoil to the industries and arts.

As for tea, it is futile to try to expand very considerably the export trade in this commodity until the industry is so well modernized in China as to insure ready and almost unlimited supplies of standardized qualities. Suppose for instance that through an extensive campaign of advertising in America which would cost probably upwards of a million dollars, a greatly increased demand for China teas were developed, could dealers in America be assured of a constant source of supply of standardized articles within reasonable ranges of price fluctuations? The best method of accomplishing this, is through the building up of a prosperous domestic trade in established qualities. In fact, it is quite likely that once the Chinese have seriously embarked upon exploiting their domestic market possibilities they may find a bigger market right at home for their well graded, standardized and attractively packed teas than possible to develop abroad. In all events, once they have built up a considerable domestic tea trade, then it will not be difficult to increase their foreign exports by the same or similar methods.

MOTOR HIGHWAY

On The Increase

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Nanking, Aug. 20. According to figures released by the Bureau of Public Roads of the National Economic Council, there are at present about 84,800 kilometres of highways in China, over which a total of about 50,000 motor vehicles are travelling.

Kwangtung stands first in the length of highways, having a total of 11,200 kilometres. Shantung comes second with 5,500 kilometres. According to some investigations, most of the motor vehicles are running in the municipalities and business centres rather than in the rural districts in various provinces. The number of buses in China is only about 20 per cent of her total of motor vehicles. By comparison, Kwangtung has the largest number of buses, which is about 4,000. Shantung runs second with about 2,000.

According to statistics compiled by the Bureau for the year 1934, there is one motor vehicle to an average of 15 kilometres of highways. Or more specifically, there is one automobile to an average of 25 kilometres, one truck to an average of 90 kilometres and one motor cycle to an average of 260 kilometres.

UNIFIED CONTROL

There is yet no unified control of highway traffic in the country. Most provinces have a Public Roads Bureau directly under the Provincial Government, or the Provincial Department of Reconstruction, to take charge of highway management. Among these pro-

NATIONAL TEXTILE LABORATORY

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Shanghai, Aug. 20. A National Textile Laboratory completely equipped with up-to-date machinery, is being erected near the building of the Academia Sinica under the auspices of the National Cotton Commission and the Academia Sinica at a cost of approximately $100,000, not including a large expenditure for equipment which is being imported from large textile manufacturing countries of the world. The total investment will be in the neighbourhood of $400,000 while an ample annual budget has already been provided for the maintenance of the building and the perpetuation of research by skilled workers.

This new laboratory will fill a long-felt need, for mills in China are for the most part unable to install expensive research equipment. The building itself will consist of three sections. Administrative offices and testing laboratories will occupy the topmost part of the structure to the front, while in the rear space will be provided for the installation of the spinning and weaving rooms.

RESEARCH COUNCIL

The Academia also makes another important announcement with the statement that a National Research Council will be formed in accordance with the charter of the institution. Members of this council will be chosen by the presidents of various universities throughout China. In all, 30 members will be chosen, representing all branches of science. The president and directors of the Academia Sinica will also be included as members of the Council, bringing the total to 41 in all. The Council will be the highest scientific research body in China and will have the power to decide on the research policies.

"Mind" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, August 25, 1935.

The Golden Text was: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ." (1 Cor. 2:16).

The Lesson Sermon included the following passages from the Bible: "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him." (Jas. 1:5).

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortal ideas, pure, perfect, and enduring, are transmitted by the divine Mind through divine Science, which corrects error with truth and demands spiritual thoughts, divine concepts, to the end that they may produce harmonious results." ## ELINOR NORTON

Every once in a while there appears on the Hollywood horizon a story of such merit that if the right player is cast in the leading role, a new star is almost sure to be the result.

Sol M. Wurtzel, Fox Film producer, believes that "Elinor Norton," by Mary Roberts Rinehart, coming on Wednesday to the King's Theatre, is one of those pictures.

The adaptation by Rose Franken, author of "Another Language," and Philip Klein, is said to be a masterly one. "The screen play, as it stands, is certain star making material." That is the Hollywood verdict.

Nearly every actress on the Fox Film contract list put in a bid for the title role, and agents for free lance players buzzed for weeks around Wurtzel's office.

At last Claire Trevor was selected and it is this young actress, in the opinion of Wurtzel, Director Hamilton MacFadden and others, who is destined to be the next star on the Fox lot as a result.

The Mary Roberts Rinehart story requires an actress of unlimited dramatic range. In the opinion of the prophets, Claire's performance more than justifies every opportunity afforded by this outstanding role.

"Elinor Norton" is the story of a girl whose life is motivated by three men. All of them love her in their separate ways one cruelly, one desperately, one unselfishly.

TESTATOR'S JOY

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 5.

Among the pleasures of old age few can compare with that of will-making. To insert, to strike out, to insert again, to devise conditions and to tighten them up, to study expectant faces and to keep people guessing, to drop half-hints and to lead the glibly greedy up the garden path, these are the pastimes that give savour to the most limited and invalid existences. There has just taken to the streets of Budapest a young man whose uncle's will has left him £30,000, but on conditions. The fortune may only come to him after it has been spent on firewood, and no one can eat firewood. The legatee can only sell the firewood after he has chopped it with his own hand, day by day, and he must sell it personally. Another nephew, and a lawyer at that, is appointed by the will to watch what happens, and himself becomes the heir to everything if he can prove a breach of the conditions. It almost looks as though his nephew inclined to indecency. The report says that they were not on friendly terms, and the beneficiary should not complain too loudly. Once the terms of a will are known, the living can make alliance against the dead, and bargains can be struck. It is when the wily testator keeps disclosing his mind little by little that there is nothing to be done. Some years ago a moribund Pole wrote a very clever will which consisted of envelope within envelope, with inscriptions: "To be opened twelve months from to-day," and, inside that, another one with "To be opened two years from to-day," and so on, keeping the next generation on tenterhooks for the estate was considerable—until about ten years after the death the final envelope was reached; and left everything to accumulate for 100 years before being distributed among whatever heirs there might be.

FAMILY GATHERING

The Hungarian nephew has also been fortunate to escape without any description of his failings appearing in the will. The family gathering and the family lawyer's voice have often proved an irresistible temptation for lively home truths. Few have been so sweeping as the Frenchman who left all his money to the people of London and ordered his body to be buried at sea a mile from the English coast, roundly declaring the French to be "a nation of dastards and fools." (The French Courts refused to invalidate the will or to say that he must have been insane). Perhaps the best implied criticism of everybody was that of the Finn who left his all to the Devil. The Courts would not uphold the bequest. But many a testator has commented in detail on the people with whom he has spent his life, and there is no way of getting the Court to set aside an insult. Such wills must of course be locked away with care until the great day. The story is on record of George Sand, who could not wait to open her husband's will and discovered it to be full of curses aimed at her, whereupon she left him, and set up authors with a room of her own. What checks exuberance in

£408,000 LOSS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 5.

A loss of £408,000 on the first years working of the recently formed Cunard-White Star, Ltd., is reported to-day.

The financial results of the operations following the merging of the Cunard Steam Ship Company, Ltd., and the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, Ltd., into Cunard-White Star, Ltd., were contained in the first report of the directors of the new company, to be submitted at the first ordinary general meeting on Friday next.

The report states that the company become responsible for the operations of the parent companies in the Atlantic trade as from the commencement of the year 1934, though merged operation did not commence until September 1.

The profit and loss account is stated as from the parent companies formally agreed, to transfer their ships and other assets to the company—namely, June 10, 1934—and shows a loss of £408,089 16s. 6d., which is carried forward.

It is to be noted that the practical effectiveness of the merging of the companies' operations was not obtainable in any considerable measure before the commencement of 1935," adds the report.

QUEEN MARY PROGRESS

The share premium account of £10,000,000 has been debited with the losses incurred by the two parent companies in the Atlantic trade prior to the date of the profit and loss account—namely, £299,189 3s. 3d.—and also with £771,480 12s. 10d., being the net in book values of certain assets acquired.

The report mentions that work on the Queen Mary is proceeding satisfactorily.

will more than anything else is the presence of solicitors, who are not, as a rule, gifted with flights of fancy or inclined to enter into the idea of making the world at up. If it became more fashionable to take a pride in the literary aspects of the will—and it will might, for it is the best chance that most people have of compelling attention—a new profession for literary men and rhetoricians might emerge. General comments are too frequently limited to reflections on the night burden of taxes which have overshadowed life, but there is much more to say than that, and, however long-winded a man may choose to be, for once his listeners cannot afford to skip.

Gentlemen Are Born

A charming drama with plenty of laughter and gay music, including familiar cue songs are found in the first national production "Gentlemen Are Born" now showing at the Alhambra Theatre. The picture treats of the adventures and love affairs of four college graduates who encounter tremendous difficulties that make for intensely dramatic situations in their lives.

Three distinct romances, although woven together in the same plot are unfolded. There is an all star cast headed by Franchot Tone and three leading ladies, Jean Muir, Margaret Lindsay and Ann Dvorak. Miss Lindsay has the romantic lead opposite Tone in a love tangle that nearly ruins both their lives.

The other two romances are between Tone's pal, a part played by Ross Alexander and Jean Muir, and Ann Dvorak and Nick Foran. Robert Light plays the fourth. The picture is good, clean, wholesome entertainment and will please.—Redincam.

THE NON STOP REVUE

Saturday night at the King's Theatre was an extremely enjoyable affair and the many people who went must have come away with the happy feeling that it was money well spent. The Non-Stop Revue were at their best and the result may easily be imagined. The one thing I liked about the show was that it was so true to its name, for the audience were never kept waiting, not even a minute, between acts.

There were so many turns that it would be hard to describe them all but to my mind the "acrobatics" must stand out as the best, not forgetting the leading lady's turn, riding a bicycle round a wheel! "Mr. Garibaldi" provided plenty of amusement while the "vocelling gentleman" to, was good.

There will be a complete change of programme to-day and if the new turns are going to be up to the standard of the ones I saw on Saturday then they will be worth seeing. The Company will be here until Friday so that there will be plenty of time for you to go and see them during the week.—F.M.A.

ITALY CRITICISES BROADCAST

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 5.
Mr. Eden's broadcast was heard by very few people in this country last night. Those who understood English describe it as "very and by no means friendly to Italy."

Criticism of Great Britain for what has happened at Geneva is prominent. It is argued that the British Government has been making a fool of the League against this country and for its own selfish ends.

The defence of Abyssinia is described as but a cloak to Britain's "unfriendly attitude towards Italy," because she fears the consequences to her own colonial empire when Italy has conquered Abyssinia.

The "apocryphal" version of Signor Mussolini's Ebboli speech published abroad a day or two ago is still being circulated secretly here. Signor Mussolini's own paper, the "Popolo d'Italia," it is the work of anti-Fascists in Italy and abroad. The "Popolo" follows this with a version resembling

PARIS IN SPRING

At The Queen's

A picture filled with music, romance, gaiety and laughter is now being screened at the Queen's Theatre in the picture "Paris in Spring."

In it are starred Mary Ellis and Tullio Carminati who are both involved in a song filled story of a quadrangle of romance. Carminati threatens to jump off the Eiffel Tower because Mary Ellis does not pay enough of attention to him and Ida Lupino has the same notion because of romantic complications with James Blakeley and this pair instead of going through with any part of it they get together and start off on a wild whirl in the night life of Paris.

Their respective sweethearts become jealous, police accuse Carminati of kidnapping Miss Lupino and there's a mad chase that winds up at the mansion owned by Miss Lupino's grandmother. Here grand-ma takes a hand and after a hilarious night of romantic comedy the loving couples are brought together again.

The story on the whole is well blended. The cast acquitted themselves well and what with gay Parisian song and comedy the picture is well above the average and is worth seeing.—C

ETHIOPIA MORE CHEERFUL

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, August 5.

As the radio service closes here at mid-day, it is impossible to comment on the League Council's decisions, but there is far greater optimism since Professor Jaze's official report was received to-day.

The Emperor sent a message to the Wallamo and Kenta troops now quartered in native tukuls outside Addis Ababa, and numbering about 60,000 with the additions of the last three days, ordering them not to enter Addis Ababa, but to "eat your bread and drink your meat in the country instead of coming to the Palace like the Kulo troops last Sunday, because the League is sitting and we do not want a warlike show." Hence the only demonstration to-day was that of the Jeunesse d'Ethiopie, whose meeting in the Place Saint Giorghis was patriotic but peaceful.

The Emperor, with typical impatience, is sending down to Majji a new young Governor, Fitwarri Zawde Ayale, "to govern it in the manner of governing Asba Tafari" (capital of Chercher, the first model province under the Emperor's system of administrative reforms). But the path of the reformer is not smooth, as is illustrated by the case of the young sub-Governor, Liq Ferada, of Chercher, who was shot in the ear by a mutinous soldier in the Danakil country last week.

The verbatim report of the speech which was published in "The Daily Telegraph" of July 8. Chief points in the "apocryphal" edition which offend official opinion are:

"Abyssinia, which you are going to conquer, we shall have totally. We shall not be content with partial concessions and if she dare resist our formidable strength we will put her to pillage and to fire. You will have formidable armaments that nobody in the world suspects. You will be strong and invincible, and soon you shall see the five Continents of the world bow down and tremble before the Fascist power."

MRS. DUUS

Saved Them From Bankruptcy

(Special Air Mail Service)

Glasgow, August 5.

Mrs. Lily Wallace Duus is a Scotswoman. And since she is a Scotswoman she thinks that there is no job too big for her to tackle.

Her husband is a London electrical engineer who lives at Farnhill, which is on the outskirts of Calera in Chile. Calera is the centre of the local cement industry. The labourers and the quarrymen who live there have the reputation of being "tough"—even for South America.

Last May Calera found itself in a deplorable state. It had just been swept by floods; and it was on the brink of bankruptcy. Four Mayors (all of them men) had tried and failed to put things straight.

The town had no money—not a penny. It was hopelessly in debt. Something had to be done. Calera did it. It made Mrs. Duus the Mayor.

Mrs. Duus got to work. "I start with empty coffers," she said, "but I am out for honest government."

The previous Mayor had no record of the money that had been spent, and said he had received none from his predecessor. For 12 months Mrs. Duus has been in complete charge of Calera. And in those 12 months she has put the town on its feet again.

Now (says the British United Press) Mrs. Duus has retired. And the town, solvent again, has celebrated her retirement by giving her a banquet, out of gratitude.

Mrs. Duus is 46 years old. She has one child. She is the daughter of the late Mr. Andrew Wallace, an Edinburgh merchant who settled in Chile.

Her husband was formerly with the Chilean Electric Company, but inherited a fortune.

LATEST LIDO VENTURE

Good Support For Open Air Functions

The Hong Kong Realty and Trust and those who were concerned in staging the first open air cinema dinner and dance at the Lido are to be heartily congratulated on the successful venture. So popular was the function that upward of over 350 persons turned up at the Lido on Saturday night.

Those seen at the dinner tables included Mr. J. H. Taggart and party, Mr. E. M. Raymond and party, the American Consul-General, Mr. Charles L. Hoover, the Italian Consul-General, Comm. Uff. A. Signorini, The Dutch Consul-General, Mr. J. Quist, Dr. G. D. R. Black and Mrs. Black, Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham, Mr. H. C. Macnamara, Mr. George K. Hall Bruton, Mr. T. E. Pearce, Mr. A. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. O'Dell, Mr. A. Mylo, Mr. McKinnis, Dr. Lee Shui-fan, Mr. L. Kadoorie, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick and many prominent members of the Chinese community.

THE CINEMA

After dinner the gathering turned up at the Roof of the Lido. Before going on to describe the film I would like to say something about the arrangements.

Timed to start at 9.30 p.m., the show did not actually get underway till 10.15. The sound was not good, visibility poor and on the whole the screening of the picture was not all that could be desired. Should those responsible for the running of things desire to repeat same in the near future the defects which were found on Saturday night will have to be remedied.

The Fox picture "Under The Pampis Moon" was preceded by a deliciously foolish cartoon which brought forth applause.

The role which Warner Baxter plays is the type in which he rose to popularity.

In the midst of a cast which really supports him he makes of "Cesar Camp" a very human and likeable reality, whose whole-hearted happiness is as infectious as his native faith in his fellow man is alarming.

We see him first in the Pampas a care free soul and after he had almost lost his life in a race in which he had a 100 pesos wagered on it we see him wandering around South America in search of his much beloved horse which was stolen away from him after the race.

The climax arrives when the gaucho, having suffered deception and maltreatment in Buenos Aires, calls in his comrades from the Pampas and mete out some most satisfying Pampas justice.

The greater part of the story is delectable. His "coeur d'amour" was played by Ketti Gallan whose acting will surely find a place in "stardom" ere long.

She sings and hums alluringly as an entertainer in a night club. Incidentally the fare in the night club is far above the average and a dance number entitled "Copra Tango" by Veloz and Yolanda captivated the merits of the audience.

There is one weakness in the show and that is that the actors were unable to continue in their South American dialogue throughout. Snatches of Americanisms and English were heard now and then. The picture on the whole should please and the scenes of Pampas life and gaiety are well reproduced.

After the show the floor was cleared and many couples tooted to it to the strains of music supplied by a string band.

ARMED ROBBERIES

Several Reported

While sitting on her bed at about 2.30 p.m. on Saturday, Lam Yee Mui, aged 32, a married woman residing at No. 135 Fal Yuen Street, Kowloon, heard some one knocking at her door. On it being opened by Lam Yue, a boy an intruder thrust himself into the house and producing a dagger enjoined the woman to keep quiet. Three other men then entered and after binding her left her in the kitchen. The men then ransacked the house and remained for about ten minutes.

After the robbers had decamped the woman managed to free herself and immediately raised an alarm but no trace of the robbers were to be found.

The extent of the loss is not yet known.

ANOTHER CASE

While anchored off Tai Tseng near Luk Tak Buid the master of a fishing junk was awakened from his sleep in the early hours of yesterday by the approach of another junk.

On going to investigate he was confronted by four men and was immediately struck down by one of them. The men who spoke the Sal Lo dialect were armed with revolvers and knives and ransacked the junk from stem to stern. They remained on board for about 20 minutes and took away property and money to the value of about $10.

In his report Kwok Chung (18) the master stated that his mother and three sisters were also on board at the time.

MOTOR ACCIDENT

Dr. H. Talbot, of the Union Building was involved in a motor accident on Saturday morning in which an aged Chinese woman was knocked down and received a scalp wound.

While Dr. Talbot was driving car No. 2199 at about 8.50 a.m. from West to East following in the wake of a tram car along Hennessy Road near Canal Road West the woman darted across the road in front of the tram. She got clear of the tram but ran into the car which was then overtaking the tram. Dr. Talbot swerved to avoid hitting the woman but the right mudguard struck her and she was knocked down. She received head injuries and Dr. Talbot removed her to the French Hospital where her injuries were attended to. The woman who gave her name as Yau Tong, aged 55, lives at No. 490 Lockhart Road, second floor.

NO ELECTION THIS YEAR?

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 5.

Mr. Baldwin's announcement in the House of Commons to-day that Parliament will reassemble on October 29 has persuaded most people that there will not be an election this year. The reasoning is fairly conclusive. Mr. Baldwin has already set the Commons a full week's programme after its reassembly—a programme, by the way, which includes the second reading and committee stage of the Cotton Spindles Bill. It is taken for granted that another week will be required to clear up the odds and ends of business of the session.

That keeps the House sitting until November 18. Since there must be a minimum period of twenty-one days not counting Sundays between a dissolution and polling day would be December 2. A Government which went to the country any time in December would suffer for it in unpopularity.

Now, therefore, the talk is of an election in February. Another fact telling in favour of this inference is the Government's statement in to-day's White Paper on sugar policy that it will introduce the legislation embodying the policy next session.

These calculations, it will be seen, mainly follow from the announcement that Parliament will reassemble on October 29. But there is nothing to prevent Mr. Baldwin from changing his mind and bringing Parliament back ear-

DOG BITES

Two further cases of men bitten by dogs have been reported to the authorities on Saturday. Both the victims are delivery coolies of Messrs. Lane Crawford and Co., Ltd.

In the first case Lan Kwang, aged 19, was bitten by a dog belonging to Mr. A. C. I. Bowker, of No. 187, The Peak; and in the second case, Lak Tin, aged 23, was bitten in the right thigh by a dog belonging to Mr. S. J. Butlin, of No. 506, The Peak.

The victims were sent to the Government Civil Hospital and the animals involved have been removed for observation.

Her. He could get the Speaker to summon Parliament at any time during the recess in virtue of the clause which in the last two or three years has appeared in all motions for the adjournment providing for an emergency summoning of Parliament.

What to-day's announcement means is that, at the moment, Mr. Baldwin does not think an election in November would be more advantageous for him than one early next year. Even yet he may think better of it, but I believe the odds are against it. The summoning of Parliament before its time is a step only to be justified by a real emergency, like the financial crisis of 1934. To do it merely to suit the electoral convenience of the Government is not quite the sort of thing one can see Mr. Baldwin doing.

FROM FAR CATHAY

The richest cargo since those that was brought home to England by Drake's Golden Hind arrived in England recently and berthed at the Pitchhouse Jetty in Portsmouth Harbour, Burlington House has been devoted to the art of a single nation for many years and in this respect London has enjoyed the masterpieces of Italy, France, Flanders, Holland, Persia and England. Now, by the courtesy of the Chinese Government, some of the best Chinese art treasures will be on view. The cargo of H.M.S. Suffolk might serve as a theme for a poem on the mutability of things. The thousand works of art which it contains once adorned the Imperial Palaces in the Forbidden City of Peking.

These treasures were conveyed to Shanghai when the Empire fell and the brigands threatened the Imperial capital, for then Shanghai was regarded to be the safest city in China. They were selected from a vast number of pictures and beautiful things in silk, bronze, porcelain, lacquer, crystal, ivory and jade, by five connoisseurs, who went to China for that purpose with the help of the Chinese Organising Committee, and so that there might be the best assurance of their safety they were stowed in the hold of one of His Majesty's Majesty's cruisers, H.M.S. Suffolk (in 93 steel lined cases) and brought to England. To supervise the unpacking and arrangements in the galleries of the Royal Academy four Chinese Museum Officials came over with the treasures. The people of London should be flattered by these signal preparations for their instruction and delight.

The people in Britain are not altogether ignorant of the marvels of Chinese art. The museums contain many masterpieces great and small. Chinese porcelains which are the loveliest products of the human hand have been collected for centuries. In the eighteenth century many houses were often hung with Chinese tapestries and wall papers. Chippendale himself imitated Chinese furniture and the ladies delighted to adorn themselves and their boudoirs with Chinese embroideries. Cloisonne, enamel, lacquer and jade, they were all held in high esteem by our connoisseurs.

These were choice, beautiful and exquisite things, masterpieces of applied art; but more recently and less widely has it dawned upon the Western mind that China was great also in the art of painting with the brush. The greatness of Chinese painting has been perceived by such Western critics as Professor Penelope and Mr. Laurence Binyon, and there are devotees who have found their way through the labyrinthine courts of the British Museum to the innermost secrets of that wonderful gallery which is hung with certain masterpieces of Ming and Sung. But the Western world knows all too little of these rare pictures to realise that the Chinese painter had the creative and interpretive genius in full measure which is claimed for the art of the West.

The Chinese painted on silk and not canvas, and his technique and notions of perspective were different. They used Chinese ink and water-colours and not oils but in his own media he achieved effects as subtle, as fine, even as powerful, as the masters of the West. Portraits, indeed, he cultivated less, although even there his achievement is considerable; but there was little he did not discover in the mystery of landscape painting. There he was both pioneer and master. "Chinese technique," says Mr. Binyon, "admits of no correction." His brush work was not only swift but final. For him there was no repainting. The very heart and soul of his landscape is expressed with as much vigour as precision. And he knew as well what to leave out as what to put in: "the idea" it is one of his maxims "is present even where the brush has not passed." Nor must we praise him altogether in the past tense, for a recent exhibition in London shows that Chinese art is still vital and creative. The Western artist, as well as the Western public, will have something to learn at Burlington House this winter.

CORRESPONDENCE

Penetration Of China

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 5.—In a letter to the editor of the "Manchester Guardian," a correspondent who signs himself "An Old Resident In The East" says:—

Sir,—A great many people in Britain are doubtless watching with anxiety the encroachment of the Japanese in China and wondering what the result is going to be. One of the difficulties in the present situation is the propaganda of Japanese newspapers and the strict Government censorship whereby the Japanese people do not realise the real state of affairs and certain sections of the Government can work out its ruthless aggression at will.

I wonder whether people at home have any idea of what is happening apart from the movement of Japanese troops. During the last year some thousands of Japanese subjects from Formosa have been entering Amoy. Some of these are law-abiding people, but others are very much the contrary. The brothels, opium dens, and gambling houses of the port are most in the hands of these people. If Chinese police working on Chinese soil wish to raid any of these houses they have first to get permission from the Japanese. Again and again the police are paralysed and unable to do anything. For a small monthly sum a Chinese may hang out the sign of a Japanese citizen and thereby escape from the police. Recently, owing to the better relations between Nanking and Tokio, the co-operation of the Japanese Consul has been secured to abolish the gambling dens, but they are only being driven into secret places. In one house the den is on the third floor and is entered by an innocent-looking shop. If the police enter an electric bell gives warning on the third floor and when the den is reached a number of people are found quietly engaged in lawful occupations.

A number of gangsters are supported by these Formosans who constantly defy the police. Someone is attacked by a gangster. He gives the alarm to the police and the police try to arrest the gangster. Before they can do so the gangster is surrounded by Formosans and escapes. One group of gangsters in a town I know is controlled by a man who is on the Consulate staff. The police go to the Consulate to arrange to raid the house of a Japanese citizen. A telephone message is sent to the citizen from the Consulate and by the time the police get a warrant and reach the house the birds have flown.

There is a great deal of smuggling between Formosa, Amoy, and the coast near by. The Customs gunboats are vigilant and have captured many junks caught two junks in Chinese territorial waters. Two Japanese gunboats came alongside—one on each side. Officers boarded the Customs boat tried to argue that the junks were not in territorial waters, and asked for their release. The British officer in charge refused to give way and refused to show his log-book, as the Japanese gunboat was acting entirely beyond its powers. The Chinese Customs authorities found it expedient to transfer the officer elsewhere to avoid further trouble.

There is a great deal of corruption in China, in spite of the improvements that are undoubtedly taking place. It is true that anti-foreign propaganda has been very unfair. I am sure that many Chinese have spent their energy denouncing foreign imperialism and being wilfully blind to the sin and corruption of the Chinese themselves. I suppose that in cases Japanese aggression has been met by Chinese guile. Also, in condemning the Japanese spirit, we have to remember many things in British colonial history that fill us with shame. But has there ever been a case like the present where a nation is using its influence to flood a neighbouring country with opium, to protect law-breakers, and allow gambling dens and brothels openly to flourish under its protection? The Japanese have their own police force to keep order among their subjects. They have their own courts in some ways more efficient than the Chinese. They can stop some law-breaking when they choose, and yet they allow their subjects to go on defying Chinese law. A great many business firms are compelled to employ Formosans to collect their accounts. The Formosans can get in money that otherwise would not be paid. In this way

If Gossip We Must

(By "ONLOOKER").

The glorious weather of the past week has given everybody a new lease of life, and everybody who could possibly manage to spare the time dashed to the beaches to swim and sunbathe. How the children revel in Hong Kong open air life; and how they love it when they can swim to the raft unaided. I noticed little Barbara Franks progressing thereto with great joy the other day, while her younger friends, Anne and Stephen Lowick watched her from the shallows with great admiration and some wistfulness.

The first night of the "Tropical Express" seems to have been a great success. Lots of cheerful people seemed to come on to "The Grips" after seeing the show, in great party spirit. Some of the first people I saw were the Gristis and the Hugh-Joneses; the latter looking very well after their trip to the North. Nearly all the well known lovelies seemed to drift in, including Barbara and Heather. Hence, and I loved Heather's white dress with the black velvet ribbon slotted through the sort of cape effect (I wasn't very close to her so I hope I shall be forgiven if the description is inaccurate). Joyce Harris-Walker was dancing beautifully in a cool white starched frock. Then I caught a fleeting glimpse of the Porter girls—Patricia in pale biscuit.

A NEW "LOVELY"

One of the smartest dresses of the evening was worn by Mrs. Feltham; it was pale pink, and the straight skirt was all up back and front in a very Parisian manner. Mrs. Wilson was looking as lovely as ever, in something vaguely yellow which brought out the beautiful lights in her hair. Betty Gerrard looked very sweet in black, and I loved Irene Dunnett's neat suit and chic little green hat. Can any one tell me who the new "Lovely" was with masses of very blonde hair and a lovely printed dress with a lot of blue about it?

Bessie's Bar was seething with bright young men. I thought it must be some special stag party, but I was told that it wasn't the annual outing of the Staggerholme club, or anything, merely a chance gathering of some hearties. "Robbie" Robertson, Mr. Dullea, Mr. Pierce, Mr. Hebert and that very tall gunner who effects an Indian type of evening clothes were all sitting about in company with a great many others, known and unknown, and "a good time was had by all." There was no doubt about that!

MEN'S CLOTHES

By the way the "Brighter Clothes Movement" really does seem to be getting established. There was a marvellous collection of shirts and ties the other night. We greatly admired a sapphire blue effect with a deep green tie. And talking of men's clothes; I do get so tired of hearing about the discomfort of coats and ties and things in the summer. Why, in the name of reason can't our men folk emulate others in hot climates.

I gathered from a friend from the North-West Frontier that nobody ever wears anything but an open shirt with an open neck and no tie for office and all; and most Army units sponsor of an open shirt. It is incredible that men are so slow to adopt obviously new and better habits—they do get so tied and bound by "old custom" here in Hong Kong.

More partings. This time Mrs. N. L. Smith and Veronica, and Stephen are going home in the Ranchi. We shall miss them a lot, and our only comfort is that the popular "N.L." and Mary are staying here.

they are acquainted with the business of the town. Amoy does not need to be conquered by a Japanese fleet. The power is already in the hands of the Japanese. The Japanese have already made attempts to get control of the international settlement also, but up to the present have been unsuccessful.

China is trying hard to set her house in order. She is fighting against tremendous difficulties from her own people. But worse than all diplomatic pressure are the steps that the Japanese are taking to cripple the efforts of enlightened Chinese administrators and keep China weak for their own selfish ends.

The writer has a great respect for the Japanese people, as well as for the Chinese. This problem will not be solved by working up a hate against Japan. But facts such as I have mentioned in this letter should receive the widest publicity. —Young M.C.

Washington, Aug. 25.—Senate has suspended the rules to permit discussion of Senator Byrnes' amendment of the third Deficiency Bill to compel a twelve-cent cotton loan. The procedure required a two-thirds majority for the amendment's acceptance.—Reuter.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The House of Senate has passed the Neutrality Bill as amended by the House of Representatives. The Bill has been forwarded to the White House for the signature of President Roosevelt.—Reuter.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The 250 million dollars "Soak the Rich" Bill has been sent to the White House for signature with the completion of Congressional action.—Reuter.

Malta, Aug. 25.—The Government has ordered the construction of public air raid structures in every district on the island. This follows the distribution of leaflets instructing the public how to behave in the event of an attack by aeroplanes.—Reuter.

Germany Floats Big Loans

Berlin, Aug. 23. It was announced to-day that "in order to carry through its task" the Reich Government is offering to the public during the first fortnight of September bonds to the value of 500,000,000 Reichsmarks at 98, bearing four and a half per cent interest.

This is the first step of the Government to meet the financial crisis foreseen by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, who, as Minister of Economy is seeking unification of control in the economic sphere, and who may become a sort of financial dictator, answerable only to Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

The bonds, it is announced, will mature in ten years' time, but twenty per cent of the issue will be redeemed yearly from 1941.

A further 500,000,000 Reichsmarks issue will be taken up entirely by the country's savings banks.

These measures were predicted by Dr. Schacht in his speech at Koenigsberg, on August 18, when he urged unity of action upon the nation in order to meet the pressing needs which the rearmament and work-boosting programmes would entail.—Reuter.

GREAT FAITH IN LEAGUE COUNCIL MEETING

To Bring About Peaceful Settlement THE ITALO-ABYSSINIAN DISPUTE

The reports received in the Colony over the week-end regarding the Italo-Abyssinian situation have been of a somewhat conflicting nature for whereas some of the messages hold out definite hope for a peaceful settlement, the others rather give the impression that arrangements are being made rapidly, in anticipation of hostilities breaking out.

The Italian Army are holding a giant demonstration to-day and at the head of the manoeuvres will be Signor Mussolini himself, in his role as War Minister. King Victor Emmanuel has already arrived at Balzano where he will watch the movements and every able-bodied citizen in Italy will probably be called upon to take active part.

So far as the Anglo-French efforts at effecting a settlement, without resort to warfare, are concerned, one report states that no further step will be taken pending the meeting of the League Council which, according to another report, is being looked forward to confidently by a certain section as being the most hopeful remedy for the differences of opinion.

Rome, Aug. 25. Over half a million men commanded by Signor Mussolini himself, as Minister of War, will participate in Italy's monster army manoeuvres which will begin to-morrow.

In order to experiment with the various characteristics of modern warfare, the operations will be in four sectors, to the north of Milan, on the North-East Frontier, near Naples and near Balzano. Most of Italy's available manhood is being employed and Duce has ordered all Cabinet Ministers and Under Secretaries to participate in the manoeuvres.

Balzano will be of particular interest owing to the mountainous nature of the district and the fact that large mechanised units will take part in the activities here. King Victor Emmanuel has arrived at this sector and Signor Mussolini is expected on August 28.

The manoeuvres will constitute, simultaneously, a trial for the Abyssinian campaign and a challenge to those who argue that Mussolini will not be able to protect the Northern Frontier if he launches a campaign in Abyssinia.—Reuter.

ROUSING SEND OFF

Naples, Aug. 25. Fifty-thousand people were present at the quayside when the liner "Saturnia" with a thousand "Blackshirts," including Signor Signor Mussolini's sons and son-in-law, sailed for East Africa. An account of the scenes, as the vessel left, was broadcast throughout Italy.—Reuter.

TAKING PRECAUTIONS

London, Aug. 24. In view of the threat of an Italo-Ethiopian war all the Powers concerned in the Mediterranean are taking precautions to prevent undesirable incidents and to protect their interests. The closest secrecy prevails, and it is almost impossible to obtain the slightest glimpse of happenings behind the scenes.

Nothing is available in Paris, but it is understood that France is taking measures for the strengthening of the naval forces in the Mediterranean ports of Palma and Majorca. Following the despatch of two batteries of field-artillery to Iviza, it is announced that five battalions of Infantry will be distributed in the Balearic Islands.

It is recalled that a British ship was recently reported to have delivered at Port Mahon two 15-inch guns for the new fortifications there.

NOTHING DISCLOSED

A message from Gibraltar states that nothing has been disclosed officially of the strengthening of the Mediterranean Fleet. The only warship movements are as follows: The 3rd destroyer flotilla, of the Mediterranean Fleet, sailed for Malta to-day; the aircraft-carrier Glorious arrives on Monday and is staying until September 10. Also H.M.S. Searcher and Wessex are expected shortly.

There is a rumour that American warships are expected, but the American Consulate is not aware of any arriving.

More Spanish troops are arriving at the neighbouring towns. A message from Athens states that the Italian authorities have evacuated the inhabitants of the Dodecanese island of Pserimos, in order that it may be converted into a military hospital base, for which it is suitable owing to the climate and the numerous trees.

BRITISH MOVEMENTS

A Malta message announces that the strengthening of the Mediterranean Fleet is officially denied, but it has already been announced that the more powerful H.M.S. Barham is replacing King Victor Emmanuel of Italy who has arrived at Balzano to watch the Italian army manoeuvres.

STILL HOPE

Paris, August 25. There is still a chance for a peaceful settlement of the Italo-Abyssinian dispute, declares the semi-official "Le Temps" to-day. The paper says that the situation though grave is not desperate. It appears that this view is based on the possibility that the Geneva discussions, rather than direct diplomatic exchanges, may lead to a peaceful settlement, and French official quarters are not disinclined to share this view.

Both the "Temps" and the "Journal des Debats" advance arguments why Italy should prefer peaceful penetration to costly warfare, and the latter paper declares that Italy must understand that France, like Britain, cannot lightly envisage the destruction of the Geneva system, adding that Italy will achieve certain of her aspirations better if she pays more heed to the necessities of the friendly powers.

Meanwhile, no further Franco-British initiative is expected before the League Council meets.—Reuter.

the older battleship Royal Sovereign.

The existing cruise programme is confirmed. The warships are leaving on Wednesday next. No Adriatic ports are being visited.

H.M.S. Revenge and Valiant, the 1st cruiser squadron, the 3rd cruiser squadron and the aircraft-carrier Glorious are leaving for Alexandria, and the other units are proceeding to Famagusta, Larnaka, Limassol, Ismailia, Port Said, Suez, Acre and Haifa.

The 1st destroyer flotilla and the 1st submarine flotilla, with H.M.S. Maine, are remaining at Malta until the end of September.—Reuter.

NO FURTHER MEETINGS

London, Aug. 23. It is understood that the meeting of Ministers this morning was in connection with the Italo-Abyssinian situation, and was purely for the purpose of clearing up matters left over from yesterday's meeting. No other meeting is planned at present.—Reuter.

UNUSUAL ACTIVITY

Cairo, Aug. 23. There was unusual activity in the Suez Canal to-day.

An Italian destroyer flotilla leader, Tigre, proceeded through the canal towards the Red Sea followed by two ships carrying Italian war materials and coal.

Later, transports with 1,200 officers and men aboard, and another vessel with 200 men, passed through the locks. At the same time another Italian vessel entered the canal from the opposite direction carrying sick and disabled men from Eritrea.—Reuter.

STORM IN SENATE CIRCLES

Washington, August 24. A storm has been aroused in Senate circles by the statements attributed to Senator Pope of Idaho, now visiting London. Mr. Pope is reported to have said that the United States would be unable to remain out of the next war.

The isolationist Senators disapprove of Mr. Pope's reported action in seeking interviews with Sir Samuel Hoare and Mr. George Lansbury.

Before proceeding to Europe Senator Pope is reputed to have paid visits to President Roosevelt and Mr. Cordell Hull, although he insists that he is visiting London in a private capacity.

A number of Republicans profess to see in Mr. Pope's movements sinister machinations similar to those of Colonel House prior to the entry of the United States into the Great War. Mr. Pope's activities are denounced by some critics as calculated to lead to the embroilment of America with the European hell-broth.—Reuter.

INFORMAL TALK

London, Aug. 24. After yesterday's Cabinet meeting on the Italo-Abyssinian dispute it was understood that Ministers remaining in London, would keep in touch with the Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, for a consultation and an informal meeting was held to-day at No. 10 Downing Street at which Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, acting Prime Minister in Mr. Baldwin's absence on holiday abroad, the Foreign Secretary, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell and Lord Halifax were present.

Mr. MacDonald is travelling by night train to Lissleworth. No important developments in the situation are anticipated before the meeting of the League Council on September 4, though as indicated yesterday the British Government will pursue with the French Government a policy of unity to help the parties to the dispute to solve their difficulties.

The expectation in London is that Italy will attend the Council. Hope is expressed in many quarters that she will then make a full statement of her case and that machinery of the League will be given a chance to operate to produce a fair and reasonable settlement without recourse to warlike measures. It is believed strong world opinion is behind efforts to secure a peaceful solution and it is not supposed that the possibilities of conciliation still open will be set aside lightly by any members of the League.

A small detachment of the 55th Battalion of the 14th Punjab Regiment is leaving India for Addis Ababa where it will augment the small guard drawn from the Indian Army, which has been maintained for several years at the British Legation. This action has been taken with a view to facilitating the protection of British and Indian subjects in Abyssinia in case of emergency.—British Wireless.

Count Ciano, who is Mussolini's son-in-law, has left for East Africa.

ALMOST NOT NOTICED

The Ethiopian Dispute

Khartum, Aug. 24.

Amid the heat and dust of the late Sudanese summer, the reactions to the Ethiopian dispute are scarcely noticeable, which is possibly due, firstly, to the innate confidence of the people in the administration, and secondly, to the lukewarm interest of the mass in the fate of Abyssinia, except the educated natives, where the sympathy is pro-Abyssinian. Outwardly there is no activity in military administration circles. No troop movements or reinforcements are reported. The feeling of confidence in British prestige, and power is such that special measures are unnecessary.

The main apparent preoccupation of the authorities at present is a possible retreat to the Sudan by refugees, beaten troops and deserters, entailing large-scale police and sanitary precautions to prevent the possible spread of disease.—Reuter.

TURKEY INTERESTED

Istanbul, Aug. 24. The Italo-Abyssinian crisis was the subject of a special meeting of the Cabinet. The dispute was examined from the viewpoint of its eventual effect on the peace of Europe.

The Cabinet decided to keep in close touch with the other members of the Balkan Pact and await developments.—Reuter.

SMUGGLING OF ARMS

Le Havre Affair

Paris, Aug. 24.

A new mysterious arms smuggling affair, reminiscent of the recent smuggling at Le Havre, where 310 cases containing arms were exchanged for boxes filled with sand and stones, is now reported from Rouen by "l'Ouvre".

On August 2, the newspaper asserts, 201 cases, which, according to the Customs clearances, should have contained wood but were actually filled with cartridges and machine-gun ammunition, were brought to the suburb of Lille in a motor-car. The transport, l'Ouvre asserts, took place with the complicity of the police authorities.

Similar shipments have been forwarded to Amiens from Rouen, according to the newspaper, which expresses the belief that both shipments were part of the Le Havre shipment which disappeared so mysteriously.

The affair is causing some anxiety among the population, which says the paper, is wondering who is the recipient of the mysterious arms shipment.—Transoceanic Radio Min.

BROOKLINE TENNIS

Brooklines, Aug. 25. In the final of the men's doubles, Allison and Van Ryn beat Hines and Culley 2-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 and 6-3 while Budge and Mako beat Shields and Parker 6-4, 6-3 and 6-3.

The final of the women's doubles resulted in a win for Jacobs and Fabry over Andrews and Babcock 6-4, 6-2.—Reuter.

CHALLENGE TO NATION

By President Roosevelt

Washington, Aug. 25.

Broadcasting to the nation, but primarily addressing the Young Democrats Convention in Milwaukee, President Roosevelt challenged the youth of the nation who are united to "go forward" on the construction of a new national structure.

The President spoke of his philosophy of government, his ideas for revising the "old order," "We must adjust our ideas to the facts of to-day," he said. "To American youth of all parties, I submit a message of confidence—unity and challenge. Rules are not of necessity sacred—principles are."

"The methods of the old order are not, as some would have you believe, above the challenge to youth."

AGREED AND UNITED

President Roosevelt rapped the Tories of the world, and said "the reason why forces of reaction so often defeat the forces of progress is that the Tories in the world are agreed and united in standing still on the same old spot, therefore never run into the danger of getting lost in divergent trails." He said that he was convinced that the new generation of Americans places more emphasis in the sufficiency of life than in a plethora of riches which was too often the goal of the olden days.

He asserted that the "rules which governed the relationship between employer and employee in the blacksmith shop days of George Washington cannot, of necessity, govern the relationship of 50,000 employees of a great corporation and more infinitely the complex and diffused ownership of that corporation."—Reuter.

THE DANGER REMAINS

Japan Still Worried

Peking, Aug. 24.

General Tada, the new Japanese Commander-in-Chief in North China, stated in the course of an interview that he did not consider the North China situation satisfactory, because the removal of anti-Japanese activities had not been fully carried out.

However, he appreciated that this was a difficult task and patience and courage were needed to achieve it.

General Tada added that action by force by the Japanese could be taken, but he hoped the local authorities would carry out their promises. North China was pledged against anti-Japanese activities, as well as against anti-Manchukuo activities, and was pledged to remove the causes thereof.—Reuter.

LIVELY DUEL

Sterilisation Of Criminals

Berlin, August 25.

A lively duel between a young Czechoslovak woman doctor, Miss Visele of Amsterdam, and Professor Rutgers on the committee's recommendation for the sterilisation of certain classes of criminals, occurred at the concluding debate of the International Penal Congress.

Miss Visele, supporting the recommendation, argued that the object should be not only to punish, but to fight the causes of crime, while Rutgers contended that it was a medical and not juridical problem.

The recommendation, which was strongly supported by the Germans, was carried by a large majority.

NO AGREEMENT

No agreement was reached on the problem of treatment of prisoners which has a direct bearing on the new Nazi Penal Code, favouring punishment rather than education of prisoners.

The French delegates' criticism of the German Concentration Camps caused considerable excitement in the committee stage, and the president of the Congress, in announcing the failure to reach an agreement, said that there were certain differences of opinion between nations which could not at present be bridged. The matter was accordingly postponed until the next Congress.—Reuter.

COTTON SUBSIDY DEFENDED

By Mr. Chester Davis

Washington, Aug. 23.

Mr. Chester C. Davis, A.A.A. Administrator, vigorously defending the Government's plan to lend nine cents and guarantee by direct grants a total of twelve cents to producers participating in the cotton control programme, predicted the first billion dollar crop since 1929, as prices in the major markets dropped sharply in response to the loan announcement.

Mr. Davis added that the Government policy not only promises the best cotton income which the South has enjoyed for years, but also means an enlarged outlet for exports, which is most important to the cotton industry.

Earlier, Senator Byrnes had begun a campaign for the immediate enactment of legislation compelling the Administration to lend twelve cents while Senator Bankhead had appealed to the farmers to hold on for twelve cents or better, asserting that they would rather sell at a fair price than accept a bounty from the Government.

Meanwhile, the Senate'srazier-Lenk's Farm Mortgage Bill has been amended and passed by the House of Representatives.—Reuter.

JUNIOR LEADER BEATEN

Some Close Tussles

C.C.C. "A" are still in their winning streak and well might the Club be proud of their prowess in Lawn Bowls when on Saturday the Club achieved the 'treble' for the second time this season. By defeating the Bowling Green they have more than consolidated their position in the senior league.

A very close game was witnessed on the Civil Service greens when the home team just scraped home against the Police by a single shot.

In the senior Division the Police trounced the Civil Servants senior by 23 shots while the Indians were beaten by the Kowloon Dockers by 8 shots.

There were no possible scores, although A. Kitchell's Craigengower four secured a six against H. Rose's Bowling Green quartette, while A. Hyde-Lay's K.C.C. rink also performed this feat against E. d'Arcy's Craigengower "B" four.

OPEN RINK CHAMPIONSHIP

(BY "JACK HIGH")

Playing consistently good bowls, the Bowling Green four defeated the Recreation four in the final of the Open Rink Lawn Bowls Championship yesterday on the K.C.C. Green by 25 shots to 14. The victors have to thank R. Duncan and J. Brown for their victory as their displays on the day were primarily responsible for their victory.

The Portuguese were unlucky to start the game with a handicap, in that their skip, C. G. Silva, was very much upset by the fall from a bus while on his way to the game. He was never himself from the start and only towards the end of the match did his brilliance become visible.

On the run of the play the Bowling Green four secured their victory. They played well together and men to men they beat the best of the Portuguese with the exception of their No. 1.

LOCAL BASEBALL

Japanese Defeated

In a low scoring game the Americans defeated the Japanese in a league baseball encounter yesterday on the Caroline Hill by 3 runs to two.

The game produced baseball of a high standard. Both teams were not slow in seizing the errors made by their opponents and the pitching of their hurlers did much in keeping the scores down.

The Japanese opened by scoring two in the second innings and it was not till the fourth that the Americans were able to get one and this incidentally was a four run blast. The score stood at 2 runs to 1 in favour of the Japanese and on the 6th inning the Americans crossed the home plate once to level the score.

All was excitement in the last inning and then a misunderstanding cropped up which nearly ended in the Japanese walking off the field.

A Japanese batter filed to out-field. Hachiuma was on third and as soon as the fielder nipped the pill into air Hachiuma ran home but when the ball reached third he was ruled out. The reason given by the umpire was that Hachiuma ran before the man was out which off course was denied by the runner. After all better counsel prevailed and the Japanese played on only to allow the Americans to cross the plate once more and get away with both points.

CANADIANS BEATEN

The Chinese had no difficulty in overcoming the weak Canadian team in their baseball encounter on Saturday and although the Canadians lost by 21 runs to 9 they showed a vast improvement in their standard.

Muir, at short stop, was good. He registered three hits and scored two runs. He had a lot of work throughout the afternoon and acquitted himself well.

Mueller was not a success at pitching, but was safe in the field. He hit the first home run of the season for the Canadians, in the sixth innings.

Higgins, behind the bat, played a masterly game. He again let few balls pass him and saved his side a run when he put Herbert Leong out at the home plate as the latter was trying to obtain a home run.

Score by Innings

H. K. HOCKEY CLUB

Annual Report

The Annual General Meeting of the Hong Kong Hockey Club will be held on September 4 at 8.30 p.m. in the Secretary's Room at the Hong Kong Cricket Club when the following report and statement for the season, 1934-35, will be submitted to the meeting.

The financial position of the Club continues healthy. The credit balance at the bank shows a small reduction from $132.91 to $125.80 on July 31, 1935, but as this Club has borne the full charges for the maintenance of the ground during the past season, there is a sum of $109.27 recoverable under this head from the other Club using the ground. A further $100 is also due from another Club for the loan of the ground on one day per week.

The ground was maintained in good condition, and in spite of continuous and heavy use throughout the season it played well until the close.

Six Playing Members and five Military and Naval Subscribers joined the Club during the year. Six Members either resigned or were transferred to the Absent Members list. The present roll of Playing Members and Military and Naval Subscribers, including those absent on leave, is 49.

Full fixture lists were arranged for both 1st and 2nd XIs, and these were well carried through, though bad weather interfered somewhat towards the close of the season.

The Triangular Tournament. After an unpromising start in this Tournament, the Club finally emerged as winners, defeating the Army team in the final match by one goal to nil. The Navy, last year's winners, occupied the bottom position. Club Colours were awarded to A. T. Lay, G. Sommer and J. Pote-Hunt.

HOCKEY

"Y" TO HELD MEET

Last Gala Arranged

It was decided at a meeting of the European Y.M.C.A. Swimming Committee on Friday evening to hold an informal swimming gala on September 8, in which two championship events would be featured, to be followed by the last gala of the season on October 12.

The events for September 8 are: Men's 50 Yards Free Style Championship; Ladies' 50 Yards Free Style Championship; Mixed Medley Relay (25, 50, 75, 75, 50 and 75 yards); Novelty Race (Mixed); Men's 50 Yards (Members) Aggregate Handicap; Follow-the-Leader.

CHAMPIONSHIP EVENTS

It was also decided that the 220 Yards and 440 Yards championship events be swum off mid-week during the second and third weeks in October, while the 100 Yards Championship would be the main feature of the October 12 Gala.

It was further decided to hold a dance following the gala, and to distribute the prizes won during 1934 and the current season.

KING'S CUP RACE

Many Entries

London, Aug. 25.

The King's Cup Air Race will be flown this year on September 6 and 7. Over thirty entries have been received, including one from the Duke of Kent.

As a compromise between the earlier "Round Britain" course and the recent "There and Back" laps, the organisers have planned an eliminating course on the first day, consisting of a flight round England over a total distance of approximately 950 miles, and on the second day, a flight for surviving machines over a number of laps of a circuit of not less than fifty miles in length up to a total distance of 350 miles.

Several of the machines entered are capable of speeds in excess of 200 miles per hour, including the Percival New Gulf of the Duke of Kent and a Comet monoplane similar to the craft that won the England-Australia speed and handicap races last October.

Machines which will be seen by the public for the first time in the race are an experimental machine, a de Havilland D.H. ninety-cabin biplane powered with two Gipsy Major 130 horsepower engines, entered by Captain G. de Havilland, and a B.A. Cupid two-seater cabin monoplane.

The New York Yankees also won their fixture against the St. Louis Browns but only after thirteen innings had been played.

In the National League, the New York Giants suffered another defeat, losing to the Cubs by 7-4. The Cardinals won two matches from the Brooklyn Dodgers and they are now well on the heels of the New York team.

I WILL FOLLOW

was opened." (the account book doesn't apply to the family), "which is the book of life." That is not an account book but a register of birth! Religion is not a matter of subtracting so much bad from so much good and writing up the balance: Are you, or are you not His child?

"CHILD" I may seem to be exaggerating the importance of this one word. "Child." Our Lord elsewhere has much to say of servants—servants, watching for their Lord, stewards being good and faithful, or wicked and slothful, servants. Our Lord, like all good teachers, changes the picture according to the lesson. But that which has always been the most distinctive Christian picture is Father and child. When He gets to His deeper lessons, He begins "No more do I call you servants."

St. Paul in almost every epistle calls himself the servant, the slave, of Jesus Christ. But ask him to explain his captivity: "I was apprehended—I was captivated—by Christ Jesus." "The love of Christ constraineth—has got hold of me." And St. Paul's is that triumphant word.

"Ye received not the spirit of bondage again unto fear, but ye received the spirit of adoption. We are children of God; and if children then heirs, heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ."

The prayers of the Church use the word "servant" repeatedly. But one of the most beautiful phrases in the English language is that sublime paradox of the Prayer Book, "Whose service is perfect freedom."

Do you know what it means? Are you grubbing along in a dull routine of humdrum harmless living, or are you daily entering further into the romance of being a child of God? "These many years I am slaving for Thee." I repeat, it is not lack of effort, it is lack of motive. It is not that you don't do enough; you don't love enough. And I may add, you do not expect enough, venture enough, claim enough, prove enough, in your religion. "Child!" You have only to stretch out your hands and take what is offered; "Father!"

WEEK-END OUTINGS

At the St. Andrew's Church Club and the European Y.M.C.A. picnics large parties attended, many ladies being included in the latter.

Over 50 people attended the Methodist Church picnic, while more than 30 attended Anglican Church party, organised by the Men's Fellowship.

THE CHAMPIONS BEATEN

In Brookline
Tourney

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 23.
For the second time since their recent victory in the women's doubles championship at Wimbledon, the title holders, Freda James and Kay Stammers, have suffered defeat.

The Wimbledon champions were surprised in the Wightman Cup competition last week when Miss Helen Jacobs and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fry beat them 4-2, 6-2 and now they have been eliminated from the United States Tennis Championships by another of America's Wightman Cup pair, Mrs. Dorothy Andrus and Miss Carolyn Babcock.

It will be recalled that Mrs. Andrus and Miss Babcock were beaten by Miss Nancy Lyle and Mrs. Evelyn Dearman in the Wightman Cup but this English pair were today defeated by America's leading combination, Miss Helen Jacobs and Mrs. Palfrey Fry.

Both these matches were played in the semi-final of the women's doubles, and both were terminated in the second set.

Mrs. Andrus and Miss Babcock won from Mrs. James and Miss

LAWN BOWLS

J. E. Noronha played a great game for the Recreio. His drawing at times were nothing short of uncanny. He had the better of P. T. Farrell and Noronha was the only man that really shone throughout. He did not receive the support from his team mates.

DUNCAN SUPERS

R. Duncan was the best man on view. He played consistently well right through. He had C. E. Marques completely overshadowed and his rollings were always well to the mark. J. C. Brown too had F. X. M. da Silva mastered almost the whole game although the Portuguese No. 3 now and then showed that he was not a beaten man.

Of the two skips A. M. Holland was slightly the better but it must be said in fairness to C. G. Silva that he was rather upset by the fall. However towards the end Silva made valiant efforts to stem the tide and then one saw the "old master" back at work again but it was at rather a late stage.

THE PLAY

Holland was responsible for the five which his rink collected. On the 6th head the Portuguese were lying one when he came in with a back wood to displace that shot. With his next he trailed the jack to give his rink the five. On the 13th head the Portuguese were again lying 3 but Duncan carried the jack to allow them only two shots.

The Bowling Green started the ball rolling by scoring a three on the very first head. Recreio claimed singles in the next two, and on the 4th the Bowling Green came back again with a four. On the fifth they got one and on the sixth Holland's mastery enabled them to obtain the five. Recreio came back with a miserable one on the next and another four was claimed by the Bowling Green on the 8th. At this stage the Bowling Green was leading by 17 shots to 3 and of the remaining 13 heads Bowling Green scored on six heads while Recreio scored on the other seven; Bowling Green scored 8 shots as against the Recreio's 11.

Recreio scored six singles and four twos to Bowling Green's five singles, two twos, one three, two fours and a five.

OPEN CHAMPIONSHIPS

As already reported in the columns of this paper, the four games of the quarter finals of the Hong Kong Lawn Bowls Singles Championship will be played off during this week, one bracket of the draw being engaged on Wednesday and the other on Thursday.

In the former half F. Cullen meets H. A. Alves on the Craigengower Green, while B. W. Barclay meets H. Overy on the Kowloon Bowling Green Club. Both encounters should be interesting and will provide some close results, but perhaps the game between Cullen, who was the conqueror of A. Hyde-Lay, and Alves will provide the keenest struggle. Alves has never held the title, but he has been playing remarkably well; it is seen, some Cullen, on the other hand, was champion in 1925.

On Thursday G. N. Mitchell meets J. C. Brown on the C.S.C.C. green, while A. M. Holland meets R. Duncan on the Club de Recreio green.

A. M. Holland is favoured in many quarters to win the title, but he will have to play better than he did in the last round if he is to survive in to the semi-final. R. Duncan has had a very successful season to date, for he is also fighting in the final with his cousin the Pairs Championship against Medina and Cavanagh on the C.S.C.C. green to-morrow. Mitchell is favoured to beat Brown.

The Pairs Championship which will take place to-morrow is scheduled to commence at 4.30 p.m. with Mrs. F. J. Jones as umpire.

Stammers 8-3 4-6 while Miss Jacobs and Mrs. Palfrey-Fry beat Miss Lyle and Mrs. Dearman 8-6, 6-4.

MEN'S DOUBLES, DUEL
Brookline, Aug. 23.
In the men's double championship, Wilmer, Elmer, and Harry Cullen of Santa Barbara, California, defeated Berkeley Bell and Gregory, Marston by 8-3, 6-4, 6-7, 6-4, and qualified to enter the semi-final.

HOME FOOTBALL

Some Close Games

London, Aug. 24.

Evidence of a determined bid by Glasgow Celtic for the Scottish Football League Championship was given when they followed up their home win over Hamilton by securing two away points at St. Johnstone by an odd goal margin.

The Rangers, however, retained their lead after a hectic struggle against Dundee, the match producing seven goals.

Dunfermline surprised by holding the Hearts to a draw, while Queen's Park, the famous amateur club, succeeded in taking a home point from Motherwell.

With the season only three weeks old, there is not one team with a 100 per cent. record, and only five teams have unbeaten records.

Results, as cabled by Reuter, were:—

Aberdeen	3	Hibernian	1
Albion	5	Ayr	1
Clyde	1	Arbroath	3

BERLIN BOURSE

Little Business

Berlin, Aug. 24.

Although as usually happens in the week-end, the volume of business done in the sharemarket was not great, a much friendlier outlook prevailed so that most prices recovered. This was largely due to the favourable reception given to an official announcement that 500 million Reich's treasury bonds, 4½ per cent. were offered for public subscription and several hundred million guilder half Reichsanleihen 1935 will be placed with the Deutsche Girozentrale for disposal to savings banks. It was generally agreed, that the right moment has been chosen for the issue and the other conditions are favourable so that a complete success is expected.

Fixed interest securities were in small demand and most investments excepting, however, Gold Mortgage bonds being weaker. Call Money rose from 2½ to 3 per cent. The scale of business in the operations both on the sharemarket and the fixed interest securities market was small as buyers were extremely cautious owing to the uncertainties of the international situation and the apparent utility of all the efforts to avert a conflict in Abyssinia. On the other hand, Schacht's speech at Koenigsberg on Sunday giving new assurances respecting the stability of the currency and also outlining frankly the financial situation in the light of the unemployment campaign, had the effect of restoring confidence while the Government's announcement of the issue of a total of 1,000 million marks long-term loans was well received.

Hence though the price level in the sharemarket was appreciably lower at the beginning of the week, the difference was reduced by Saturday's rally. Fixed interest securities were dull but the prices on the whole were steady—
